The SMA Clinic Assistant Introductory Skills Course participants would be trained in the basic skills required of a clinic assistant, such as managing infection control, performing ECGs, and collecting and despatching biological specimens.

Visit <https://www.sma.org.sg/trainandplace> and log in to your membership portal to indicate your clinic's vacancies if you're interested in interviewing SMA-trained clinic assistants. If you've hired any of our course graduates, do be reminded that they require the employment contract to obtain the 90% e2i subsidy ($450) for the course. If you have any queries about the programme, please email Mellissa (SMA Secretariat) at mellissa@sma.org.sg or call her at 6223 1264.
